ICE HKA Annual Conference 2020

Worldwide advances in planning, design and construction of infrastructures

Established in 1818 in London, the Institution of Civil Engineers (ICE) is the first professional engineering body in the world. Since obtaining its Royal Charter in 1828, it has expanded considerably and now has more than 90,000 members across the world.

Conference's theme

Civil engineers worldwide are facing the common challenges of delivering infrastructure projects growing both in scale and in complexity, meeting higher standards in quality, safety and sustainability, and seizing benefits from digital and technological development while at the same time dealing with their disruptions. Successful project delivery under these challenges demands engineers involved in project planning, design and construction to innovate with advancement in concepts and adoption of new technologies. With the above in mind, the Annual Conference 2020 is dedicated to looking at some of these advances, with a view to harnessing ideas for improvements in the local industry.
