Institution of
MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

Improving the world through engineering

OVER 106,000 MEMBERS IN MORE THAN 140 COUNTRIES.

Headquartered in London, the Institution of Mechanical Engineers is one of the fastest growing engineering institutions. With operations around the world, our Members are working at the heart of the most important and dynamic industries. We believe that engineers have a vital role to play in tackling the real and complex challenges our world faces. By becoming a Member of the Institution, you will be part of a community devoted to promoting the value of your profession.

Professional registration is the independent, industry-recognised benchmark for engineering professionals. It demonstrates your professional development and helps you achieve new standards of excellence in your work.

The Institution of Mechanical Engineers sets the international gold standard for professional registration:

Fellow (FIMechE)

The highest level of elected membership. A mark of exceptional commitment to and innovation in mechanical engineering.

Chartered Engineer (CEng MIMechE)

Involved in solving engineering problems either by innovation, creativity or change. Able to demonstrate learning to the equivalent of a Masters degree.

Incorporated Engineer (IEng MIMechE)

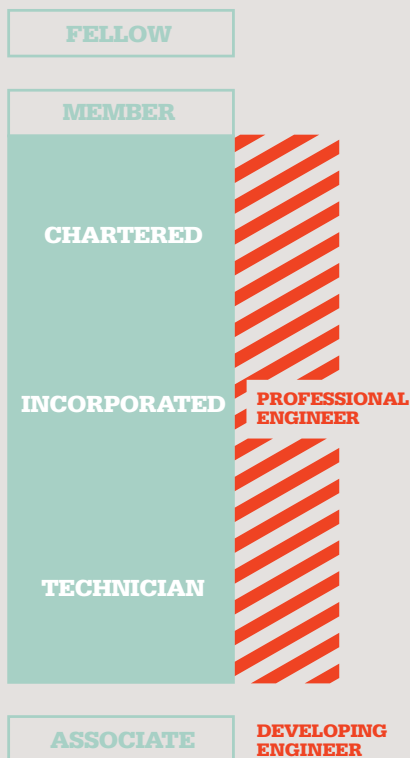

Often involved in operational roles, maintaining and managing applications of technology at the highest efficiency. Able to demonstrate learning to a Bachelor's degree level.

Engineering Technician (EngTech MIMechE)

For technicians who use proven procedures to solve practical engineering problems. Able to demonstrate learning to NVQ/SQV level 3 or similar.

Associate (AMIMechE)

Open to anyone with an appropriate degree. The first step on your journey to professional registration

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

Professional registration and membership of the Institution enhances the opportunities available to you and your career by:

Improving your long-term earning potential

Keeping you up-to-date with regular engineering news and developments

Demonstrating your professionalism by using globally recognised letters after your name

Networking with like-minded individuals at technical conferences, seminars, lectures and regional events

Offering training resources to meet your ambitions for further qualifications and development of your skill-set

Having access to a knowledge centre that includes a library, a research team and more than 70,000 online resources

Providing a "Support Network", that offers you financial and practical support in times of need
