Biomedical Engineering Division
Cambridge Centre

CURRENT CONTROVERSIES IN LIMB RECONSTRUCTION

ONLINE WEBINAR

Institution of MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

IOP Institute of Physics

Mr Matija Krkovic is a senior Consultant Orthopaedic and Trauma surgeon working at Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust. After completing higher specialist training in General and Orthopaedic Trauma surgery in 2001, Thereafter, Matija completed his PhD at the University Medical Centre of Ljubljana in 2006. Matija has been working as a Consultant Trauma and Orthopaedic surgeon in the NHS since 2007. He is actively involved in research within Orthopaedics, and is responsible for training the next generation of surgeons.

His talk will cover the current controversies in limb reconstruction.

Thursday 7 April at 19:30

Register for the MS Teams Webinar via:

Registration link to Online Webinar on 7 April at 19:30

Any queries please contact:

Tom Pinto
Tom.pinto@member.imeche.org

Improving the world through engineering